

England had powerful silver suits
And 10,000 ordinary men
Sometimes scared but always brave

They probably thought they were going to lose
They probably thought they weren't going to live
They probably thought they were going to die

The France team got stuck in the mucky, sticky mud

The France team thought they were not going to die
They thought they wouldn't lose their lives
They thought they were going to live